The background of the slide is a solid dark blue. Overlaid on this are several sets of thin, white, curved lines that create a sense of motion and depth, resembling stylized waves or a wireframe mesh. These lines are more concentrated in the upper half of the image and fade out towards the bottom.

VIM is my Favourite

The screenshot shows the VIM text editor interface. The top menu bar includes File, Edit, Tools, Syntax, Buffers, Windows, and Help. Below the menu is a toolbar with various icons. The editor is split into two panes. The left pane shows a file named `vendor/vendor {` with a list of files: `plugins-plugins {`, `acts_as_taggable-acts`, `init.rb`, `lib-lib {`, `models`, `acts_as_taggable.rb`, `tag.rb`, and `tagging.rb`. The right pane shows a file named `lib/active_record/taggable.rb` with the following code:

```
1 def tagging < ActiveRecord::Base
2   belongs_to :tag
3   belongs_to :taggable, :polymorphic => true
4
5   belongs_to :user
6
7   def self.tagged_class(taggable)
8     ActiveRecord::Base.send(:class_name_of_active_record_descen-
9     desc, taggable.class).to_s
10  end
11
12  def self.find_taggable(tagged_class, tagged_id)
13    tagged_class.classance.find(tagged_id)
14  end
15 end
```
